NORTHERN ARIZONA FAIR AT PRESCOTT POSTPONED

With but one week before the opening of the Northern Arizona Fair, it was found necessary by the Northern Arizona Fair Association, to cancel the 1918 Northern Arizona Fair. This action was taken after serious consideration on the part of the Fair Association, and with deep regret.

The plans for holding the Northern Arizona Fair had reached the point where the management knew that it would be the biggest and best celebration ever held under the Northern Arizona Fair Association. The co-operation from the state and the five northern counties had made it possible for the management to proceed on a scale never before attempted by this organization.

In view of the fact that it was impossible for the health officers to give any approximate date as to when the quarantine would be lifted, the Fair Association could not postpone the Fair and set any particular date as to when it could be held, and the only feasible thing left to be done under the circumstances was to cancel the Fair.

The Association had gone to a great deal of expense in making repairs to the grounds and buildings, as well as the advertising and office expense. It was necessary for the Secretary to send many telegrams advising of the cancellation of the Fair; these to large outside concerns that had been banking on the holding of the Fair, one of the largest of which was the Tom Mix Film Corporation of California.

This year the final payments on the grounds must be met and it places the Fair Association in a rather unsatisfactory position. A meeting of the entire Fair Association will be called immediately upon the return of President Fredericks from New York.—Prescott Courier.

A Borrowed Tribal Custom.

A Mohave Indian woman, who was evidently doing her shopping, appeared on the street Tuesday carrying her articles of purchase in a bag on her back suspended from a band resting across her forehead. This can hardly be said to be the Mojave fashion of carrying things, but one that was borrowed from the Digger Indians of central and northern California, among whom this custom has been in vogue from time immemorial. The Digger squaw and her bag are inseparable. This bag is the "catch all" or receptacle for everything of which she takes toll in her rounds of the town or country, and in winter it serves also as a protection against the rain. It must be said, however, that this Mojave "squaw bag," while the same in design, was a decided improvement over the Digger bag, for the latter is usually made of old canvas while the former's was of bright colored silk.—Parker Post.

FITCH RETURNS TO ARIZONA.

Tom Fitch, he of the silver tongue, an old time lawyer of Arizona, well known to pioneers of Tucson, is back in his old stamping ground. Tom has returned from Los Angeles to Phoenix to engage in the practice of law and now has an office with C. F. Ainsworth of that city.

Twenty years ago he was one of the leading lawyers of the state and was known as the silver tongued orator.

"Hearsay testimony is not admissible in court. I am living on borrowed time, but am conscious of no diminution in mental or physical powers. I will run a quarter of a mile race with any member of the bar of equal age, or make an hour's argument with him.

"Why have I returned to Arizona? Ah, why did I ever leave it? I am a returned prodigal. Bring on your roast veal."—Tucson Citizen.

INCORPORATION PETITION OF SNOWFLAKE PEOPLE DENIED

A petition was filed Monday with the board of supervisors by the people of Snowflake, to be acted upon by that body. The petition provided for the incorporation of that town.

The board was compelled, however, to disallow the request, as it is said that the petition did not contain the necessary two-thirds of the resident taxpayers of that place. The law is said to be specific in this regard, requiring two-thirds of the resident taxpayers. They must pay taxes there; also be actual residents.

The probabilities are that the necessary names will be obtained, as there seems to be a pretty general desire on the part of the people of Snowflake to incorporate and join the progressive procession.—Holbrook Tribune.

MURDER SUSPECT CAUGHT.

A deputy sheriff of Socorro county, N. M., arrested near Magdalena last Friday a man named King, on suspicion of being the man who murdered Arthur Beam and Paul McCurray, of Deming, in Apache county, on Sept. 25, mention of the murder having been made in the last issue of the Sun, although the names of the young men were not known at that time. King, it is alleged, at the time of his apprehension, had two guns belonging to the murdered boys, and also a bloody mattress was found in his possession.

Every precinct in Maricopa county is to be recounted in connection with the contest of the primary result covering the Democratic candidacy for sheriff of Jeff Adams, who was sheriff two years ago, and W. H. Wilkey, present sheriff. Adams apparently was nominated by 19 majority. He has lost nine votes thus far in the count.

Winslow was hart hit by the influenza epidemic during the past ten days. Nineteen deaths were reported up to Saturday and there were over 500 cases of sickness. The high school building was turned into a hospital, nurses and doctors were sent in from other parts of the state to help out. There were eighty cases at one time in the high school building. It was noticeable that where good treatment could be given cases there were few deaths.

Night Schools Opened.

Night schools for Americanization work among the Spanish-speaking people are being opened in various parts of the state. One of the latest reports is at St. Johns, where classes have been started. Separate lessons are held for the men and women. The enrollment is reported good and the work is being carried on with enthusiasm.

D. A. Richardson, a Cochise county cattleman, has leased the 300,000 acre ranch of Anton Proto, sixteen miles south of Nogales. There have been no cattle on the Proto ranch since 1915 so the grass there is good. A number of American cattle will be sent from the drought-stricken ranges of southern Arizona to graze on the Proto holdings.

The biggest seizure of liquor in the history of Arizona took place at Pirtleville, a suburb of Douglas, when city and federal officers took possession of nearly 1,000 cases of Whiskey and beer, valued from $75,000 to $100,000. The officers found part of the liquor cached in subterranean rooms under the home of Grace Bart Hockett, foreman of the Copper Queen smelter.

Dr. Caldwell, the young physician who located at Springerville a few months ago, died last Tuesday morning. Only a few days previous he returned from Phoenix, where he had been to take the state medical examination. It is said he was a sufferer from tuberculosis. He was an amiable young fellow and well liked at Springerville.—St. Johns Observer.

The jury in the case of Natcho Kay, C. H., 2, the Apache Indian charged with the killing of two squaws near Rock House, Gila county, two months ago, brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. The law requires that the jury fix the penalty in first degree murder at life imprisonment.

The assessed valuation of the property of all private car companies operating in Arizona, according to figures compiled by the state tax commission is $1,896,467. This represents the property in this state of fifty-nine companies, as against 37 companies that were operating in the state last year.

A shipment of about $1,000,000 in American silver coin recently passed through the port of Nogales, consigned to General Alvaro Obregon. The Mexicans employed by the general on his plantation refused to accept any money other than American silver.

T. B. Grace of Douglas had several bones broken when his automobile overturned near Tucson. A woman and some children in the rear seat escaped without injury. After overturning, Grace's car took fire and was totally destroyed.

The democrats of Pinal county have nominated Mrs. Oscar Cole for County Recorder. Mrs. Cole is the wife of a private in the army and she has three children to support. She is being opposed by Mrs. McGee, wife of an ex-sheriff of that county.

Second Lieutenant John B. Hiatt, who is visiting his Phoenix home on furlough, says that it has cost the government $45,000 to train him to fly. When he goes to France he is going to do his best to make the investment a good one.

Volumes five and six of the history of Arizona being written by State Historian Thomas E. Farish are off the press. They are bound in uniform style with the first four volumes.

While Charles Lind, a bootlegger, was fleeing from two officers in the upper Gila valley he steered his car into a calf and killed the animal. His capture was later effected. Twelve cases of liquor and the car were confiscated.

Muckers and common laborers are being recruited in Jerome for work at Fort Whipple, which the government is to rebuild into one of the biggest tuberculosis sanitariums in the country.

Mrs. Ellen M. Dial has been reappointed postmaster for Safford by President Wilson for the term of four years. The appointment was dated September 9, 1918.

The Northern Arizona fair which was to have been held at Prescott commencing yesterday, was called off owing to the epidemic of influenza.

The oil drilling epidemic at Holbrook has not abated and many holes are being pecked into mother earth for oil.

SOLDIER AND SAILOR CANTEN

In Unit No. 5 of the War Camp Community Service in New York, once the old Hotel Earlington, but now a club for soldiers and sailors, the chairs and furnishings are from such German ships as the famous Vaterland, seized by the government at the outbreak of the war.

TRY THIS FOR "FLU."

Take six or ten onions, according to size, and chop fine, put in a large spider over a hot fire; then add about the same quantity of rye meal, and vinegar enough to make a thick paste. Meanwhile stir it thoroughly, letting it simmer five or ten minutes.

Then put it in a cotton bag large enough to cover the lungs and apply it to the chest as hot as the patient can bear. When this gets cold, apply another, and thus continue by reheating the poultices, and in a few hours the patient will be out of danger. This simple remedy has never failed in this too-often fatal malady. Usually three or four applications will be sufficient but continue always until perspiration starts freely from the chest. This simple remedy, says the New England Grocer, was formulated many years ago by one of the best physicians New England has ever known. He never lost a patient by the disease, and won his renown by saving persons by simple remedies after the best medical talent had pronounced their cases hopeless.

POULTRY TO HAVE IMPORTANT PLACE

PHOENIX, Oct. 16.—Poultry and poultry products are to have an important place at the Arizona State Fair which will be held in Phoenix November 11 to 16. An entire building is to be given over to an exhibit which promises to be the largest ever shown in this state and probably in the entire west.

Awards made at this exhibit are to be highly valued because of the keen competition. No matter what strain of poultry the exhibitor may have to show, the award will have been won only after the keenest competition. Poultry breeders from all over Arizona are showing a desire to have a part in the coming exhibit. The government has sent out an in-sistent and more than urgent request that the people of this country keep more hens. Laws have been made limiting the killing of laying biddies. As a result this exhibit is to have a peculiar interest in that it will offer the latest and best methods for showing fanciers, and even experienced handlers of poultry the latest and best methods for bringing to early maturity the best of the stock.

Lessons learned in the hard school of experience will be given the farmers and poultry breeders at first hand. Because of this exhibit, the farmer is to have an opportunity next month to go to school to those who have made a life study of the best methods of rearing stock.

TAIKES PLACE OF SALOON.

From a business man: "I enlisted in the navy during the Spanish-American war. I remember spending my last quarter once to get ashore. When I got there the only places that had a welcome for me were the saloons. Now you Community Service people have changed all that. My boy is in France and I know he is being watched out for as I never was in the Spanish-American war."

Low Benedict was in from his sheep ranch near Grand Canyon a couple of days this week.
